N. P. MAKES $7,300,000 IMPROVEMENTS

BRAINERD POWER PLANT TO BE IN OPERATION SOON

Project at Brainerd Cost $600,000 and Will Produce 2,400 Horsepower at a Maximum, Announced by President Charles Donnelly

$4,000,000 Is to Be Spent on Rail Relay Work, Nearly 308 Miles of Main and Branch Lines, 50 Miles Secondary Track Included

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—To improve service to the public and lower operating costs, the Northern Pacific is investing $7,300,000 in improvements this year.

Projects already completed or nearly completed are included in the figures, announced by President Charles Donnelly Sunday. The figures do not include the cost of regular construction work, equipment purchases or regular maintenance.

The biggest item is for rail relay work, which is costing approximately $4,000,000. Nearly 308 miles of main and branch lines and 50 miles of secondary track are included.

A new $600,000 power plant at Brainerd will be put into operation next month. It will produce 2,400 horsepower at maximum.

Extension of the Superior dock yards costing $850,000 is now under way and will be completed next year.

Phalen Creek, in St. Paul, has been enclosed in a sewer at a cost of $250,000 to allow for construction of six miles of car storage tracks and commissary costing $850,000.

The Elma, Wash., branch line will cost $600,000 and the Lincoln grade revision about $250,000. Automatic train control additions have cost $150,000.

RATE ORDER GIVEN THE NORTHERN PACIFIC

Washington, Aug. 31.—The Northern Pacific railroad was granted permission by the Interstate Commerce Commission today to apply the same class rates to Minnesota points within 150 miles radius of Wahpeton and Grand Forks, N. D., as now apply under the order of August 12, within the same radius of Fargo.

The order was a modification of the relief from the long and short haul provision, when intermediate rates from Fargo, Moorhead, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and other Minnesota points were established to Minnesota points within 150 miles radius of Fargo. The original order was made upon complaint of the Fargo Commercial club.

COOLIDGE AT THE AMERICAN LEGION MEET IN OMAHA

(By United Press)
Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 31.—President Coolidge plans to go to Omaha, Neb., to attend the American Legion's national convention, October 5 to 9.

An invitation to attend and speak extended by National Commander James A. Drain some time ago was renewed today by Alton T. Roberts, chairman of the Legion's national committee on distinguished guests.

Mr. Coolidge authorized Roberts to announce that he intended to go. The president probably will go to Omaha on October 6, the big day of the convention.

5 CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH IN A TENEMENT FIRE

Everett, Wash., Aug. 31.—Five of August Scogna's seven children were burned to death in a tenement house fire which started when an oil lamp exploded today. Mrs. Scogna and the other two children were hurt severely when they leaped from upper story windows.

HUGE STEAM STILL DESTROYED AT ANTIGO, WIS.

Antigo, Wis., Aug. 31.—A steam still of 100 to 150 gallons capacity, an elaborate cooling system, and 11 vats with a capacity of more than 5,000 gallons of liquor were destroyed by local officers three miles east of Elcho. Five men employed in the distillery fled on the approach of officers.

STANDARD OIL STRIVES TO CLOSE A CITY STATION

OBJECTS TO GASOLINE SOLD BY MUNICIPALITY OF LINCOLN

FILES APPEAL WITH THE NEBRASKA STATE SUPREME COURT

(By United Press)
Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 31.—Renewing its legal fight to close the municipality owned gasoline filling station here, which sells gasoline cheaper than its competitors, the Standard Oil Company today filed appeal with the state supreme court from a recent district court decision which refused an injunction against the municipal station.

The oil company alleged the municipal station is being operated illegally and that it is unconstitutional.

The municipal gasoline station today was selling gasoline for 16 cents, including the two cents state tax. Standard Oil Company stations were selling for 18 cents including the tax.

DROWNS TAKING HIS SCOUT TEST

(By United Press)
Duluth, Aug. 31.—Conrad Hanson, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hanson, Duluth, was drowned Sunday at Fond du Lac in the St. Louis river. He was taking his final Boy Scout test for a first class swimmer's certificate. Two experienced swimmers were on each side of him and one of them, Merrill Anderson, was nearly drowned in attempting to save the boy. The body was recovered.

To Prevent any Fuel Famines of the Future

SEEK RECORD FOR AIRPLANE NONSTOP FLIGHT

By HAROLD E. SWISHER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
San Francisco, Aug. 31.—Two bulky naval airplanes, each displacing as much water as fair sized motor boats, will lurch through the shallow waters of an arm of San Francisco bay at 2 p. m. today and take the air, prows pointed westward.

Out through the towering cliffs of the Golden Gate, they will soar and on across the Pacific, attempting to set a new record for naval aviation by a nonstop flight to Hawaii, over 2,000 miles away.

They will leave behind the seaplane PB-1, which had been scheduled to be with them. But the PB-1 developed internal troubles on the trip down the coast from Seattle and is expected to leave tomorrow or Wednesday on a solo flight to the Hawaii.

WRECKS PLANE AS MOTOR GOES DEAD ON HIM

COL. WILLIAM MITCHELL, OF 8TH CORPS AREA, WOUNDED

WAS PILOTING SHIP AND MAKING TESTS BEFORE ACCIDENT

(By United Press)
San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 31.—Colonel William Mitchell, air officer of the eighth corps area, was badly bruised today when he wrecked his ship in landing with a stalled motor. The colonel was forced to avoid telephone poles and wires and narrowly escaped more serious injury. The accident occurred as he was taking off.

Colonel Mitchell, former amateur chief of the air service, was piloting a PT-1 ship from which he had been making tests. He was taking off from the division flying field at Fort Sam Houston and when a short distance from the ground the engine stalled. The plane was almost directly over the Austin road which is lined with poles and wires.

Quickly maneuvering the plane, Colonel Mitchell succeeded in coasting back over the field, but the ship was wrecked when it struck the ground. The colonel's injuries are not believed to be serious.

CHINESE CADETS CONTROL CANTON

CONSULAR REPORTS RECEIVED TODAY AT WASHINGTON

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 31.—After three days of fighting the Chinese Whampoa cadets of Bolshevik tendency, have secured complete control of Canton, according to consular reports received today by the state department.

The civil war has been between the so-called "Reds" and "Pinks" but there is no indication of further fighting unless Cantonese troops in the outlying districts attack.

The civil administration is badly discouraged, according to reports from American Consul General Jenkins at Canton.

The situation at Amoy is quieted and the boycott is weakening, American Consul Webb reported to the department today. It has been decided that the presence of the United States ship Hart is no longer necessary at that place.

ILLINOIS, INDIANA AND WISCONSIN IN NEW FIELD

(By United Press)
Chicago, Aug. 31.—A temporary organization pending appointment of a permanent administrator, has been worked out for the Illinois-Indiana-Wisconsin territory. B. E. Ewing, acting federal dry administrator, announced today.

Arthur J. Nye, Wisconsin director, is named deputy administrator for the eastern district of Wisconsin, with headquarters at Milwaukee.

Bert C. Morgan, present director for Indiana, is acting deputy administrator for the judicial district for the entire state of Indiana.

John Madden, in charge of enforcement in Wisconsin for several months, has been named acting deputy administrator for the southern district of Illinois, except for the 28 counties not in the Illinois-Indiana-Wisconsin division. His headquarters will be at Springfield.

With Springfield as his headquarters, Madden will be enabled to cooperate with the United States officials of the southern judicial district, which includes Peoria, Springfield, Decatur and Rock Island.

C. W. Pursell, head of the field force, is made acting enforcement assistant. E. H. Lloyd, present legal adviser, is made acting attorney. A man for the post of first assistant permit director will be sent from Washington, Ewing said. Group Chief Albert Gury of the Decatur, Ill., district will be the aide of Madden at Springfield. Group Chief J. A. Eaton, now at Peoria, remains temporarily in charge of the agents there.

J. E. Prendergast, Chicago, is made right hand man to the enforcement assistant with the title of acting deputy administrator.

I. E. Howard is made administrator of industrial alcohol activities, assisted by Jerry Green, known as "Hard Boiled" Green, of New York City. Green is hailed as one of the best men in the country in the line of prohibition work.

H. L. Reese continues as chief inspector and M. C. Carson of the Chicago office is to be in charge of special work.

New Telegraphic Service Puts Dispatch On Same Basis as Metropolitan Dailies

TELEGRAM RELAYED VIA PRINTER TELEGRAPH

New York, N. Y., August 31, 1925.

Mr. F. W. Wieland, Publisher, The Brainerd Daily Dispatch, Brainerd, Minn.

Brainerd and community are to be congratulated upon the forward step you have taken in acquiring the full leased wire service. It places your newspaper on the same basis as metropolitan dailies of the country in not only assuring your community news of your immediate vicinity—but it places Brainerd within 30 seconds of New York and Washington, within 2 minutes of London and generally in closest contact with the nerve centers of the world. It is a great step forward.

Best wishes,

KARL A. BICKEL, President, United Press Associations.

BUSINESS GOOD IN THE TWIN CITY TRADE TERRITORY

MONTHLY SURVEY OF NATION'S BUSINESS SO INDICATES

MOST OF MINNESOTA BUSINESS DEFINED AS "GOOD"

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 31.—Business is good in the Twin City trade territory, it is indicated in the monthly survey of "The Nation's Business."

The Washington publication, issued monthly by the United States Chamber of Commerce, prints a business map in the current issue showing a circle including most of Minnesota and North and South Dakota where business is "good." Other portions are classed as "fair" and "quiet."

Other districts having the same rating as this section are a small territory adjacent to Chicago and Milwaukee, and a triangular territory with apex at Kansas City, Oklahoma City and Little Rock, Ark.

BROOKHART HAS LEAD OF 200

UNOFFICIAL FIGURES ON IOWA U. S. SENATOR RECOUNT

Washington, Aug. 31.—Complete tabulation of the entire Iowa senatorial vote gives Senator Smith W. Brookhart a lead of about 200 votes over his democratic opponent, Daniel P. Steck, according to unofficial figures today.

The unofficial figures will not be released by the senate recounters until later in the day.

Brookhart Official Winner

Washington, Aug. 31.—Senator Smith W. Brookhart has won the contested Iowa election against D. P. Steck, his democratic opponent, by 174 votes, his secretary, Roy Ranking, telegraphed Brookhart today.

Official recount figures for 96 paper ballot counties given out here today were Brookhart uncontested 324,894, contested 6,465, total 331,359.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 31.—Arthur Johnson, 19, Luverne, Minn., G. S. Osborne, 20, Kansas City, Kansas, and Heret Marth, 19, Jasper, Minn., arrested in Sedalia, Mo., last Wednesday for the theft of an automobile here August 18, were arrested here last night and are held in jail awaiting arraignment on charge of auto stealing. The three youths are charged with the theft of a Hupmobile touring car owned by John Dosbigh of this city.

PRES. COOLIDGE CALLED UPON TODAY TO ACT

URGED TO OBTAIN LEGISLATION AT NEXT SESSION OF CONGRESS

WIDER POWERS ASKED FOR THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 31.—On the eve of the nationwide anthracite coal strike, President Coolidge was called upon today to take action to prevent fuel famines in the future.

John Hays Hammond, chairman of the 1923 federal coal commission, and at present chairman of the New England governors' committee, which is laying plans to provide that region with hard coal and hard coal substitutes this winter, urged the president to take action to obtain legislation at the regular session of congress next winter, putting into effect the recommendations of Hammond's commission.

The feature of the commission's report is its recommendation that the Interstate Commerce Commission be given the wide powers of regulating interstate movement of coal and other fuels.

The strike, scheduled to start at midnight tonight, Hammond said, was merely a "vacation strike" for both operators and miners and would not cause any hardship at least for the first few months.

Hammond asserts the strike will be of short duration.

GIGANTIC TASK OF UNION OFFICIALS

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—Union officials today faced the gigantic task of supervising the peaceful stoppage of production in the anthracite coal fields.

Like division commanders supervising an intricate military maneuver, district heads and international officers took their posts to direct final preparations for the cessation of work, which will culminate at midnight tonight when 158,000 miners are expected to have thrown down their tools in an indefinite strike.

More than 50,000 workers walked out of the mines not to return until their leaders have come to a satisfactory settlement with the owners of the 823 anthracite mines affected by the strike order.

How long the tie-up will last until an agreement is reached or the governor or public opinion intervenes aside a resumption of work neither side could say.

Close observers, however, have hazarded the prediction that the industry will be tied up from two to four months.

Early today it was estimated that there were 7,500,000 tons of anthracite coal in storage bins, railroad yards and tidewater points in the middle Atlantic and New England states.

This unusually large reserve will stave off a coal famine.

Probably the first who will feel the ill effects of the cessation will be 10,000 railroad workers in the car repair yards of the anthracite fields. The cutting off of the coal supply is likely to cause idleness among these laborers. Of the 160,000 union miners only 10,000 will remain at work, these to do maintenance work.

MOUNT CARMEL MEN TO WALK OUT

Mount Carmel, Pa., Aug. 31.—Anthracite miners in this district were removing their tools from the mines today, preparing for the walk-out tonight. It is estimated that 15,000 men in the Mount Carmel and Shamokin sections will be affected by the strike order.

Many miners are planning to go to the soft coal fields and other industries. (Continued on Page 4)

"I Can't Spend It When I Haven't Got It"

This is the way one young fellow puts it. "I can't spend money when it's in the bank," he says.

He has learned that loose change in the pocket has a habit of dissolving—disappearing—slipping away mysteriously. And the hole through which it slips is at the top.

No, it isn't human nature to hang onto a loose dollar when it is continually calling on you to spend it. The safest way is to put that dollar in a savings account and then tell yourself it is gone. Forget it entirely.

Then some bright morning you'll wake up to find yourself in possession of a nice big bank account.

Dimes soon become dollars in a savings account. They take root in the fertile soil of compound interest and grow and grow. Come in and talk to us about a savings account.

NEW WISCONSIN
GLEO BILL IS A
MOST DRASTIC ONE

(By United Press)
Madison, Wis., Aug. 31.—The new Wisconsin Oleomargarine law, which, according to manufacturers, would practically rule that product off the markets, may be kept from going into effect for many months, due to a court fight over its constitutionality. The law was to have gone into effect tomorrow.

A temporary injunction to state officials preventing them from attempting to enforce the law was granted here today by Judge A. C. Hoppmann, in Dane county circuit court. The state probably will file its answer to the injunction Tuesday or Wednesday, it was learned.

The new Oleomargarine law provides that no new such production of vegetables, oils and other dairy products can be sold in the state. The law does not prohibit the combination of animal fats and dairy products in the manufacture of Oleomargarine.

FIRE THREATENED
WHOLE TOWN OF
INKSTER, N. D.

Inkster, N. D., Aug. 31.—Fire of undetermined origin Sunday destroyed the Inkster bank and Sorg hardware store.

The town was threatened for a time, but aid from fire departments of Larimore and Park River curbed the flames.

The loss on buildings is estimated at $30,000 and on the hardware stock at $13,000.

CAR OVERTURNS CATCHES ON FIRE

Fred Hempstead, Pine River, in Northwestern Hospital, Badly Bruised

POLICE GIVE THE STORY

Claim Hempstead Was Racing With Friend in Another Car

Fred Hempstead, of Pine River, is at Northwestern hospital suffering from bruises which he received about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, when his automobile turned over near the south end of the paving on Thirteenth street.

According to the police, Hempstead in a Buick roadster was racing with a friend in another car, whose name could not be learned. Approaching the double curve at the end of Thirteenth street, at a high rate of speed, the cars were unable to turn, and Hempstead's roadster went into the ditch and tipped over. The other car ran into a field but was able to stop without an accident.

The Buick caught fire and burned. The fire department was called but could do nothing to save it. It is said to be a total loss. The other car left the scene of the accident before its owner's name could be learned. It is said that the two automobiles passed through the downtown district only a short time before the accident occurred, traveling at a high rate of speed.

At the hospital it was said that Hempstead's bruises, while quite painful, were not serious, and that he would be able to get out soon. The injured man is engaged in trapping during the winter and has cottages at a lake near Pine River which he rents out during the summer season.

GYPSY HIKERS HERE

Six From Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. Made Their Night Control Here Saturday

Six Gypsy hikers from the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. made Brainerd their night control Saturday, on the last lap of their jaunt through the state. Ward Grey, associate Boys' Work Secretary of the Central branch was in charge, and with him were Lowell Thomas, Bob Nelson, Harry Copps, Charles Tuffley, and Bob Williams.

This is the second annual gypsy hike conducted by Mr. Grey. Two of the boys drive a Ford with all the luggage, and travel ahead to set up the camps, ready for the rest of the troupe on arrival. In all the boys cover a good share of the state's lake region in the week they are on the road.

TRAINMEN HEAD FAVORS YOUNG BOB LA FOLLETTE

Milwaukee, Aug. 31. — Although touching only briefly on the Wisconsin political situation, J. H. McQuaid, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, declared he believed Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., has had sufficient training from his father to carry on the work that Senator LaFollette started and to do it well.

McQuaid, who addressed a large gathering of trainmen from southeastern Wisconsin at the annual picnic of the Milwaukee lodge, said an effort has been made during the past few years to promote safety of trainmen working in hazardous places.

Following his talk Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., was called on, and appealed to the railroad men for their support.

Candidates Stumping Wisconsin
Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 31.—Candidates for the nomination of United States senator from Wisconsin, who last week started their active speaking campaigns, continued their stumping tours in different parts of the state.

While Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., was in Milwaukee county and vicinity, Francis E. McGovern and party left Milwaukee for a tour of the southeastern part of the state. Roy E. Wilcox is stumping the western part of the state, speaking at noon at Sparta and tonight at LaCrosse.

William George Bruce, democrat, today announced his headquarters had been opened at the Hotel Plankinton, Milwaukee, and that W. C. Brawley will be in charge, with John M. Callahan, chairman of the state executive committee, in charge of Bruce's campaign.

At Hortonville, Dr. Daniel Woodward attended a picnic of the Ku Klux Klan and presented his political platform to a crowd gathered there.

Fairbank's Picture Greatest of All

Douglas Fairbanks in "The Thief of Bagdad," a fantasy of the screen, generally accepted as being the pinnacle of moving picture accomplishment, will be on view at the Lyceum Theatre for 2 more days. Douglas Fairbanks' great success has been owing, in great part, to the fact that, to begin with, he had a great romantic story, and that in the picturing of it he did not allow the mere seeking after spectacle and the like to interfere with its development. The story has been the main thing always. "The Thief of Bagdad," one might imagine, considering the enormous amount of talk that has been created by certain features in this picture—such, for instance, as The Magic Carpet, with which the Thief and the Princess soar over the housetops and into the sky; the Winged Horse, which flies through the clouds—that it was a mere stringing together of extraordinary happenings. Better see it tonight.

DeMille Explains Casting of "The Ten Commandments"

Cecil B. DeMille, in commenting on the casting of "The Ten Commandments," a Paramount Picture at the New Park Theatre, said:

"Each part had to be given careful consideration. Over three thousand players were used in the Egyptian sequences and each had to conform to certain specifications. When it was announced that casting was about to start our offices were flooded with people. There must have been at least five applicants for each job.

"A man with the strength, physique and good looks of an Apollo was needed for the role of Pharaoh. Those who have seen the picture know that Charles de Roche did full justice to the part.

The heroic figure of Moses was played by Theodore Roberts in a manner that no one can ever hope to equal.

"Pharaoh's wife is played by Julia Faye. The costumes of ancient Egyptian royalty were different from those of today.

as the priestess of the Golden Calf. Beautiful, young, enticing—it could have been written for none other than Estelle Taylor."

CAR OVERTURNS CATCHES ON FIRE

Fred Hempstead, Pine River, in Northwestern Hospital, Badly Bruised

POLICE GIVE THE STORY

Claim Hempstead Was Racing With Friend in Another Car

Fred Hempstead, of Pine River, is at Northwestern hospital suffering from bruises which he received about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, when his automobile turned over near the south end of the paving on Thirtieth street.

According to the police, Hempstead in a Buick roadster was racing with a friend in another car, whose name could not be learned. Approaching the double curve at the end of Thirtieth street, at a high rate of speed, the cars were unable to turn, and Hempstead's roadster went into the ditch and tipped over. The other car ran into a field but was able to stop without an accident.

The Buick caught fire and burned. The fire department was called but could do nothing to save it. It is said to be a total loss. The other car left the scene of the accident before its owner's name could be learned. It is said that the two automobiles passed through the downtown district only a short time before the accident occurred, traveling at a high rate of speed.

At the hospital it was said that Hempstead's bruises, while quite painful, were not serious, and that he would be able to get out soon. The injured man is engaged in trapping during the winter and has cottages at a lake near Pine River which he rents out during the summer season.

GYPSY HIKERS HERE

Six From Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. Made Their Night Control Here Saturday

Six Gypsy hikers from the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. made Brainerd their night control Saturday, on the last lap of their jaunt through the state. Ward Grey, associate boys' work secretary of the Central branch was in charge, and with him were Lowell Thomas, Bob Nelson, Harry Copps, Charles Tuffley, and Bob Williams.

This is the second annual gypsy hike conducted by Mr. Grey. Two of the boys drive a Ford with all the luggage, and travel ahead to set up the camps, ready for the rest of the troupe on arrival. In all the boys cover a good share of the state's lake region in the week they are on the road.

TRAINMEN HEAD FAVORS YOUNG BOB LA FOLLETTE

Milwaukee, Aug. 31. — Although touching only briefly on the Wisconsin political situation, J. H. McQuaid, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, declared he believed Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., has had sufficient training from his father to carry on the work that Senator LaFollette started and to do it well.

McQuaid, who addressed a large gathering of trainmen from southeastern Wisconsin at the annual picnic of the Milwaukee lodge, said an effort has been made during the past few years to promote safety of trainmen working in hazardous places.

Following his talk Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., was called on, and appealed to the railroad men for their support.

Candidates Stumping Wisconsin

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 31.—Candidates for the nomination of United States senator from Wisconsin, who last week started their active speaking campaigns, continued their stumping tours in different parts of the state.

While Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., was in Milwaukee county and vicinity, Francis E. McGovern and party left Milwaukee for a tour of the southeastern part of the state. Roy E. Wilcox is stumping the western part of the state, speaking at noon at Sparta and tonight at LaCrosse.

William George Bruce, democrat, today announced his headquarters had been opened at the Hotel Plankinton, Milwaukee, and that W. C. Brawley will be in charge, with John M. Callahan, chairman of the state executive committee, in charge of Bruce's campaign.

At Hortonville, Dr. Daniel Woodward attended a picnic of the Ku Klux Klan and presented his political platform to a crowd gathered there.

TROMMALD TIMES LEAVES TROMMALD

It is with regret that THE DISPATCH learns that the Trommald Times is to cease publication in Trommald and is to remove from that town to McGregor, Minn.

Editor Carlisle has this to say in the Trommald Times: "After the next issue of this paper, which will be on Saturday, September 5th, the Times will cease its activities here, and the present editor and owner will move the machinery and other equipment to McGregor, Minn., where a new paper will be established. The splendid inducements offered us by the business men of McGregor, and the continued inactivity of the mines of the range have caused us, after due consideration, to decide in favor of the McGregor proposition. In next week's issue we may have a few words to offer before bidding our readers 'goodbye'."

Mr. Carlisle has given Trommald a very good paper and it is with sincere regret that Crow Wing county editors see him leave the Cuyuna range field. McGregor can be assured it is gaining a good newspaperman, conscientious and energetic, who will work continuously for the good of the whole community.

A newspaper reflects the spirit of a community. If poorly patronized, it shows people care little to advertise in its columns or even to subscribe. Editor Carlisle, of course, hates to break the many friendly associations formed in Trommald, but according to his own statements, the business men of McGregor, appreciating the value of a newspaper, have offered him so many inducements that he has been impelled to "pull up stakes" and leave for the new field.

BUYING CEMENT FOR ROADS

IN deciding to have the state purchase cement for 1926 road construction and furnish it to contractors, a policy has been adopted by the highway department that will be welcomed by all automobile owners, who have to pay the cost of road building.

There is no question, says the St. Paul Daily News editorially, but that a considerable saving can be made in this way. It is unfortunate that the policy was not put into effect when the highway construction program began in 1921. If this had been done nearly five years of savings would have been the result to date.

Investigation showed that other states found it practicable and businesslike to buy their own cement. This led to the decision of Minnesota to do likewise, and it is a certainty that if this method has proved workable, and popular in other commonwealths it will be equally so here.

BRUISED LIVESTOCK IS TAX ON FARMER

BRUISES inflicted on livestock in loading, in transit, and in unloading, costs the farmers of the country millions of dollars every year, according to a statement made by Dr. W. J. Embree of the Western Weighing Inspection Bureau, Chicago, in a recent talk before the veterinarians of Minnesota at University Farm, St. Paul.

In one year the losses on swine ran to $3,000,000, and the losses on beef to 3,700,000 pounds. Bruised parts have to be cut from the dressed carcasses. So large are the losses that packers are waging a campaign to encourage more careful handling—the avoidance of the use of the prod, the whip, or the club in driving, loading, and unloading of livestock.

BE CAREFUL OF CITY STREETS

WITH the state highway department doing so much for Brainerd in the way of paving connecting links of highways routed through our city, it is a matter of regret on the part of THE DISPATCH to call attention to a caterpillar tractor of the department, minus any protecting cleats, found traveling over streets. Dragging a train of trucks, etc., the heavy machine leaves indentations in the cement.

Near the Home Oil Co. station, said one of its stockholders, the approach of a tractor has made marks in the paving. We urge caution on the part of all tractor men to see that their machines are soft-shod when traveling over cement.

THERE is nothing like being on the safe side when running a newspaper. And the Bemidji Daily Pioneer then refers to the Big Forks Compass which successfully reported a circus the other day without getting "in bad," by saying, "Some of those who attended said they had seen better shows, while others said they have seen worse ones, so we are not going to comment on that subject."

OUT at Cleveland, Ohio, it's a hard time to check up on the flappers at dances. Just out of the cradle flappers are discouraged at the dances and those looking as youthful, but actually years older, must carry their birth certificates if questions arise as to age. None under the 18-year age limit are allowed to dance unless accompanied by chaperons.

A DAILY paper is to be published by the 1,100 boys and girls entered in the club contest of the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition from Sept. 5 to 12, according to plans perfected by T. A. Erickson, state leader of boys' and girls' club work.

GOLF is flourishing in Bemidji. A new nine-hole course has just been opened at the Bemidji Country club, thus giving Bemidji a complete 18-hole golf course.

SEE GOOD AND BAD OMENS IN SNEEZE

East Indians Superstitious on the Subject.

Sneezing superstitions are found in almost every country, but in none are they so numerous as in India, says a Calcutta writer.

In Scotland, for example, it is a prevalent idea that idiots are incapable of sneezing, and that the power to do so indicates the possession of a certain degree of intelligence. In Wales, sneezing is considered generally unlucky.

In India, the significance of a sneeze depends very much on the circumstances under which it is heard. The formula for calculating its significance is as follows: Add the number of days between Sunday and the day of the week on which the omen has occurred to the number of jaumans, i.e., watches, (of three hours each), that have elapsed since the daybreak on the day in question, and subtract the total from eight. If the remainder is one, the sneezing portends harm from enemies; if two, it forbodes illness; if three, fear of starvation; if four, it foretells receipt of good news; if five, the coming of friends; if six, it indicates coming prosperity; if seven, it indicates bad luck; if eight, it foretells a great tumult.

These are for single sneezes. If the sneezing which is to be interpreted is a double sneeze the opposite of these will happen. If it is a series of sneezes it is all unlucky. As a rule the sneezing of men is auspicious for women, and vice versa. But the sneezing of a widow, or of an armed man, or a man with disheveled hair, is always of evil import; as also that of the cat, cow, sheep, buffalo, or a number of women. But the sneeze of a woman carrying a baby in her arms is a foreteller of great riches. If another sneeze when one is taking medicine, or getting in a vehicle, or taking a seat, or studying a book, or planting seed, it is a lucky omen.

A pious Brahmin always touches his right ear when he sneezes, in order to prevent the entry into the body of evil spirits, which are supposed to do so chiefly through the ears.

It spoils one's peace of mind to think that whenever one sneezes one is blasting the happiness of another man, or spoiling the chances of success in his undertaking. The significance of a white man's sneeze has not yet, however, been discovered, and included in the lore of Indian superstitions.

What Party Consists Of

"I wish to protest," writes a woman, "against a habit of saying in every notice of a party that refreshments were served." Of course they were served. If there had been no refreshments there would have been no party, for that is all the hostess thinks of, and is the first and last thought in the minds of the guests. Some men and women will stay out of bed till midnight, the men because they can't help themselves and the women because they want to see what there will be to eat, and the eating, which doesn't appear before 10:30, consists of a dab of ice cream, a handful of cake and perhaps coffee to keep the victims awake the rest of the night. Of course refreshments were served! That is all there is to a social affair."—Atchison Globe.

Odd Welsh Architecture

The old High street of Conway in north Wales is characteristic of Great Britain in nothing more than in its mixture of architectural styles and chance effects, says the Christian Science Monitor. Saxon, Norman, Flemish, Tudor, early Victorian and a touch of Gothic are all shown in the few buildings here represented. Could we see more of this typically British High street, doubtless we should find "Queen Anne" in evidence somewhere; also late Victorian and Neo-Georgian are well represented. Town planning, as one so often sees it in other countries, was never quite the custom in Great Britain. A street in one of her towns represents very much more than a mere page in her history.

How Bryan Kept Cool

William Jennings Bryan once told how he kept cool when making a speech.

"Do you know," he observed, "that when I am addressing an audience in a particularly warm hall, I take a small piece of ice about the size of a pullet's egg. I put it in the palm of my right hand and hold it tightly. Then I shift it to my left hand, holding it in either hand for about five minutes."

"Then I pass my cold hands over my forehead. I have always found this very effective."

Didn't Know About Tub

An Indianapolis man was visiting in the country near where some small boys had an excellent swimming place. The lads, in friendly fashion, invited him in one afternoon.

"Oh," replied the man, "I may not be able to swim now, for it has been years since I was in the creek."

One lad looked at him with a puzzled expression, then asked: "Haven't you washed off since then?"—Exchange.

TRIBE CLINGS TO ITS OLD CUSTOMS

The Japanese government is having trouble all the time with a tribe in Korea which cannot be made amenable to laws or reined in any manner. The members insist on doing things in just the same manner as their forefathers have done and all efforts to induce them to adopt the customs and conveniences of modern times are fruitless. They have a habit of burning down valuable forests and wood is quite scarce, but that makes no difference when they want the land for farming purposes. It is easier to get rich land by burning it over than to cultivate that which is already cleared. Efforts have been made to get these people to pay some attention to personal cleanliness, but it is impossible to get them to take a bath for any consideration. They do not bathe from the day they are born until they die and yet they are sound and healthy and good physical specimens. Their marriage ceremony consists of merely shaking hands.

TROMMALD TIMES LEAVES TROMMALD

It is with regret that THE DISPATCH learns that the Trommald Times is to cease publication in Trommald and is to remove from that town to McGregor, Minn.

Editor Carlisle has this to say in the Trommald Times: "After the next issue of this paper, which will be on Saturday, September 5th, the Times will cease its activities here, and the present editor and owner will move the machinery and other equipment to McGregor, Minn., where a new paper will be established. The splendid inducements offered us by the business men of McGregor, and the continued inactivity of the mines of the range have caused us, after due consideration, to decide in favor of the McGregor proposition. In next week's issue we may have a few words to offer before bidding our readers 'goodbye'."

Mr. Carlisle has given Trommald a very good paper and it is with sincere regret that Crow Wing county editors see him leave the Cuyuna range field. McGregor can be assured it is gaining a good newspaperman, conscientious and energetic, who will work continuously for the good of the whole community.

A newspaper reflects the spirit of a community. If poorly patronized, it shows people care little to advertise in its columns or even to subscribe. Editor Carlisle, of course, hates to break the many friendly associations formed in Trommald, but according to his own statements, the business men of McGregor, appreciating the value of a newspaper, have offered him so many inducements that he has been impelled to "pull up stakes" and leave for the new field.

BUYING CEMENT FOR ROADS

IN deciding to have the state purchase cement for 1926 road construction and furnish it to contractors, a policy has been adopted by the highway department that will be welcomed by all automobile owners, who have to pay the cost of road building.

There is no question, says the St. Paul Daily News editorially, but that a considerable saving can be made in this way. It is unfortunate that the policy was not put into effect when the highway construction program began in 1921. If this had been done nearly five years of savings would have been the result to date.

Investigation showed that other states found it practicable and businesslike to buy their own cement. This led to the decision of Minnesota to do likewise, and it is a certainty that if this method has proved workable, and popular in other commonwealths it will be equally so here.

BRUISED LIVESTOCK IS TAX ON FARMER

BRUISES inflicted on livestock in loading, in transit, and in unloading, costs the farmers of the country millions of dollars every year, according to a statement made by Dr. W. J. Embree of the Western Weighing Inspection Bureau, Chicago, in a recent talk before the veterinarians of Minnesota at University Farm, St. Paul.

In one year the losses on swine ran to $3,000,000, and the losses on beef to 3,700,000 pounds. Bruised parts have to be cut from the dressed carcasses. STATE FAIR IS PILED HIGH WITH FINE EXHIBITS

MUCH INTEREST CENTERS IN THE POTATO EXHIBIT,
250 ENTRIES

NORTHERN SECTION OF COUN-
TIES ARE WELL REPRESENTED

Every foot of space in the mammoth agricultural building will be piled high with farm crops exhibits at this year's Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition, Twin Cities, Sept. 5 to 12, announces R. F. Hall, superintendent.

Much interest centers in the potato exhibit, which will be one of the department's big features. More than 250 entries are expected in this show, for which $238.00 in premiums is offered. It is an open competition and the varieties recognized in the premium list are Early Ohio, Cobblers, Triumphs, Rural New Yorkers, Green Mountains, Burbanks, Kings and Russets. Among the prominent Gopher growers who have sent in their entries are: A. M. Sisler, of Grand Rapids; P. M. Davis, of Hollandale, and J. A. Haines, of Rusa City.

Two beautiful trophies, one for the best peck of oats and the other for the best peck of barley, will be awarded in the grains and seeds contest, in addition to the regular premiums. H. B. Abrahamson, of Dassel, who has won first honors in the oats competition the past two years, will gain permanent possession of the beautiful silver trophy, valued at $435.00, if he wins this year.

L. J. Colberg, of Redwood Falls, winner of the trophy offered for the best peck of barley at last year's fair, is out to repeat his successes. Charles H. Lien, of St. Cloud, who was in possession of the cup in 1921 and 1924, will be one of Mr. Colberg's keenest rivals. Mr. Lien will gain permanent possession of the cup if he triumphs this year, since it will give him three victories in five successive years, as prescribed by the rules governing the competition.

There will be competitions for both amateurs and professionals in the corn contest, for which $1,326.00 is offered. The sweepstakes prizes will be competed for by both amateurs and professionals. Among the prominent exhibitors are C. L. Blanchard, of Sherburne, J. W. Beckman, of Cokato, Thomas Hosken, of North Redwood, and Peterson Bros., of New Richland.

Thirty-five of the 39 persons in charge of the county competition are old exhibitors, which means that the judges are going to have a difficult time in selecting winners. Nine beauty prizes will be awarded this year instead of three as a year ago. The winner of the beauty prize in each of the three sections will compete for a grand sweepstakes beauty ribbon.

The counties entered are: Northern section—Aitkin, Carlton, Clearwater, Crow Wing, Koochiching, Norman, Pennington, Roseau and St. Louis. Central section—Anoka, Benton, Chisago, Douglas, Hennepin, Isanti, Kanabec, Kandiyohi, Meeker, Otter Tail, Pine, Ramsey, Sherburne, Stearns, Mille Lacs, Todd and Washington. Southern section—Blue Earth, Carver, Dakota, Goodhue, Le Sueur, Nicollet, Olmsted, Redwood and Renville.

GERMANS SEEK ALTERATION OF DAWES PLAN

(By United Press)
Berlin, Aug. 31.—Demands for alteration of the Dawes plan were forthcoming today from both liberal and monarchistic elements.

With the plan successfully in operation for one year, the nation in general still endorses the measure and is prepared to carry it out, but there has been an increase in misgivings as to some of its operations. At present Germany's budget is in good condition with every prospect that her revenues will meet the situation generally.

AWAIT RAIN ANXIOUSLY IN THE ST. PAUL AREA

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 31.—There is still no prospect of rain to relieve the long drought over most of this section.

The weather bureau predicted fair weather tonight and Tuesday, and if no rain falls today, August will go down in history as the driest August here for 31 years. With the exception of August 1894, it had been the driest August in St. Paul history.

MILK PRICES GO UP CENT A QUART IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Aug. 31.—Milk prices will go up a cent a quart here tomorrow.

Twin City milk producers increased their prices because of dry weather causing a 40 per cent drop in milk production.

The retail price, now 11 cents a quart, will be 12 cents Tuesday.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Aug. 31.—Smoke from forest fires which have been burning for two days almost unchecked in three different places, was so dense here today it was necessary for automobiles to burn their headlights.

Light showers late Sunday finally relieved the situation somewhat but in at least one place, the flames are feasting upon valuable timber. Inhabitants of Kinross, a village 35 miles south of here are prepared to leave their homes in case the fires become worse.

PRISON DOORS CLOSE ON DOROTHY FRISCO "JAZZ" GIRL

(By United Press)
San Quentin, Cal., Aug. 31.—The doors of San Quentin prison today closed behind Dorothy Ellington, 17 year old "jazz" girl of San Francisco, who killed her mother and then went out to dance. She walked calmly through the heavy gates and into the cell which will be her home for at least a year. The verdict of manslaughter, returned against her carried a maximum sentence of 15 years.

These Sadder Days

On the whole, these are much sadder ages than the early ones; not sadder in a noble and deep way, but in a dim, weary way—the way of ennui, and faded intellect, and uncomfortable of soul and body. Not that we are without festivity, but festivity more or less forced, mistaken, embittered, incomplete, not of the heart. And the profoundest reason of this darkness of heart is, I believe, our want of faith.—Ruskin.

STATE FAIR IS PILED HIGH WITH FINE EXHIBITS

MUCH INTEREST CENTERS IN THE POTATO EXHIBIT.
250 ENTRIES

NORTHERN SECTION OF COUN-
TIES ARE WELL REPRESENTED

Every foot of space in the mammoth agricultural building will be piled high with farm crops exhibits at this year's Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition, Twin Cities, Sept. 5 to 12, announces R. F. Hall, superintendent.

Much interest centers in the potato exhibit, which will be one of the department's big features. More than 250 entries are expected in this show, for which $238.00 in premiums is offered. It is an open competition and the varieties recognized in the premium list are Early Ohio, Cobblers, Triumphs, Rural New Yorkers, Green Mountains, Burbanks, Kings and Russets. Among the prominent Gopher growers who have sent in their entries are: A. M. Sisler, of Grand Rapids; P. M. Davis, of Hollandale, and J. A. Haines, of Rusa City.

Two beautiful trophies, one for the best peck of oats and the other for the best peck of barley, will be awarded in the grains and seeds contest, in addition to the regular premiums. H. B. Abrahamson, of Dassel, who has won first honors in the oats competition the past two years, will gain permanent possession of the beautiful silver trophy, valued at $435.00, if he wins this year.

L. J. Colberg, of Redwood Falls, winner of the trophy offered for the best peck of barley at last year's fair, is out to repeat his successes. Charles H. Lien, of St. Cloud, who was in possession of the cup in 1921 and 1924, will be one of Mr. Colberg's keenest rivals. Mr. Lien will gain permanent possession of the cup if he triumphs this year, since it will give him three victories in five successive years, as prescribed by the rules governing the competition.

There will be competitions for both amateurs and professionals in the corn contest, for which $1,326.00 is offered. The sweepstakes prizes will be competed for by both amateurs and professionals. Among the prominent exhibitors are C. L. Blanchard, of Sherburne, J. W. Beckman, of Cokato, Thomas Hosken, of North Redwood, and Peterson Bros., of New Richland.

Thirty-five of the 39 persons in charge of the county competition are old exhibitors, which means that the judges are going to have a difficult time in selecting winners. Nine beauty prizes will be awarded this year instead of three as a year ago. The winner of the beauty prize in each of the three sections will compete for a grand sweepstakes beauty ribbon.

The counties entered are: Northern section—Aitkin, Carlton, Clearwater, Crow Wing, Koochiching, Norman, Pennington, Roseau and St. Louis. Central section—Anoka, Benton, Chisago, Douglas, Hennepin, Isanti, Kanabec, Kandiyohi, Meeker, Otter Tail, Pine, Ramsey, Sherburne, Stearns, Mille Lacs, Todd and Washington. Southern section—Blue Earth, Carver, Dakota, Goodhue, Le Sueur, Nicollet, Olmsted, Redwood and Renville.

GERMANS SEEK ALTERATION OF DAWES PLAN

KING OF SWAT IS SUSPENDED BY 'HUG'

BABE APPEALS TO CZAR LANDIS FOR SHOW DOWN

IS BABE OR HUGGINS BIGGER MAN IN BASE-BALL?

RUTH OBJECTS TO SUSPENSION AND $5,000 FINE LEVIED

By EARL J. JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Chicago, Aug. 31. — The former King of Swat appealed to the czar of baseball today for a show down on whether he or Miller Huggins, his diminutive manager, is the bigger man in the American League.

Babe Ruth's conference with Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis was scheduled for this morning, after which the Babe of the Yankees was to entrain for New York.

On his arrival here last night Ruth was registered at a fashionable hotel and began giving out interviews attacking Miller Huggins, Yankee baseball club manager, for suspending him indefinitely and fining him $5,000 for "conduct unbecoming a player."

This morning the former home run king's attitude had not changed in the least.

"I'm all set to tell the judge (Landis) what this is all about," Ruth said before starting for the baseball commissioner's office.

"I want my fine reduced."

"Huggins gave me a raw deal. Why, they wouldn't fine a bootlegger that much and I didn't even take a drink."

The Babe declared events leading up to his suspension and fine had convinced him that either he or Miller Huggins will have to abdicate his position with the Yankees.

"The situation is intolerable," Ruth said. "Huggins is a bum manager and he's trying to cover up his mistakes by blaming me. I don't want to play baseball with anyone but the Yankees, so if Miller Huggins is reinstated as manager next year I retire."

Ruth said, however, that he would finish out the present year if reinstated. He denied the truth of Huggins' charge that he had been guilty of "rank insubordination" off the baseball field.

"It is true that I have broken the 1 A. M. rule several times lately but it hasn't hurt me one bit. I haven't taken a drink. In St. Louis, where Huggins announced his action against me, I stayed out until 2:30 A. M. but it was too hot to sleep in St. Louis anyhow."

No forecast was available as to Commissioner Landis' attitude in Ruth's case. The czar who once fined the slugger $3,000 for defying him, declared, however, that Ruth would be given a chance to lay his cards on the table.

Despite the outcome of today's conference, the Bambino plans to carry his fight on Miller Huggins to Colonel Jake Ruppert, millionaire owner of the Yankees in New York City. Ban Johnson, president of the American League declared Ruth "got just what was coming to him."

"The Bambino has the mind of a 15 year old," said Johnson. "He has got to be taught that he isn't the whole show."

COL. JAKE RUPPERT MAKES STATEMENT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Aug. 31. — "Babe Ruth is not the manager of the New York Yankees and he does not own the club. As long as he is working for me he will have to do as he is told. He never can dictate to Miller Huggins or to me," Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the former American League champions, said today.

Ruppert made it clear that the

Watching the Scoreboard

(By United Press)
Yesterday's hero—Sam Rice, veteran Washington outfielder, tripled with the bases filled and beat the White Sox, 9 to 6.

Wildness by Walberg and Rommel helped the Tigers beat the Athletics 7 to 4. It was Philadelphia's sixth consecutive defeat.

Fester's double in the ninth drove in the run that gave the Indians a 2 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

Frank Frisch hit a homer with one on and beat the Cardinals 3 to 1, in the first game but the Giants could not figure Sothoron and lost the second game, 8 to 0.

Hargrave's double gave the Robins a 4 to 3 victory over the Reds in the first game and Zach Wheat's homer won the second game, 10 to 8.

Helped by three errors by Waininger, the Browns beat the Yanks, 7 to 6.

$5,000 fine and the suspension which Huggins slapped on the home run king for a violation of training rules goes with him to the limit.

"I do not know all the details but I am behind Huggins in everything he does," he said.

Colonel Ruppert intimated that he thought Huggins had been too slow in giving the Babe some good discipline and that he wanted to do it several times in the past but would not interfere in the family affairs of the team.

It will not do any good to talk to Commissioner Landis, as Landis has no authority to go into the private affairs of any club. It is certain that he cannot get anything from Ban Johnson, because the American League president is a Huggins man from the start and the owners of the club will certainly treat him with the ice.

It has been known ever since he got into the big money that the Babe was his own manager and that he caused dissension among the other players on the team who could not understand that the club rules applied only to them and not to the Babe. He openly insulted Huggins, refused to carry out instructions on or off the field and several times threatened Huggins with physical violence.

RUTH MAY GO BACK TO COWS AND CHICKENS

Marlboro, Mass., Aug. 31.—Indefinitely suspended from the New York Yankees, Babe Ruth apparently intends to return to the cows and chickens on his farm at South Sudbury, near here.

The baseball hero's housekeeper told the United Press today she had received a long distance telephone message from Ruth stating he and Mrs. Ruth would arrive at South Sudbury within a few days.

Ruth's housekeeper said this came as a surprise to her, because she had not expected Ruth and his wife for some time.

BABE RUTH TO MAKE A FORMAL APPEAL

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Formal appeal from the $5,000 fine and indefinite suspension imposed on him by Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, will be made to Judge K. M. Landis, baseball arbiter, within 10 days, George Herman ("Babe") Ruth declared today when he found Landis was out of the city.

Ruth was disappointed at not being able to see the commissioner and told friends he felt that Landis "had walked out on him."

According to the arbiter's office he went to Michigan during the night, taking a train shortly after Ruth's arrival here.

Ruth, premier slugger, still smarting under the blow dealt him by his diminutive manager Saturday afternoon, reiterated charges that Huggins was trying to alibi the poor showing made by the Yankees.

Seated in his room at a hotel, clothed in a dark blue dressing gown

while waiting for his suit to be pressed, Ruth said:

"I have to wait ten days before making an appeal to Judge Landis. I will go before him and demand that he take action. There was no reason for Huggins throwing me off the team, other than to alibi the poor showing made by the Yankees."

"We have the best team in the league, but Huggins is off his nut and he's trying to blame me. He's been laying for me for a long time and he got his chance the other morning when I pulled in about 2:30 in the morning."

"I'm going to New York this afternoon to lay my case before Colonel Ruppert, owner of the Yankees."

"Only I'm afraid I won't get anywhere, because Huggins has got Colonel Ruppert where he wants him and where he'll believe anything he says."

Ruth appeared worried. He passed his hands through his thick, shining black hair, as he talked. He twisted uncomfortably, answering questions put to him by a group of newspapermen.

"I gave the team the best I had in me," he said. "I'm 25 pounds lighter than ever and I'm in better shape than ever before."

"Huggins had to have somebody for a goat and I'm it."

Judge Landis is at Bird Lake, Mich., with his grandchildren and may not return to Chicago for several days.

Ban N. Johnson, president of the American League, has taken no official cognizance of the action of Huggins. Unofficially he told newspapermen that he felt the Babe got what was coming to him.

Ruth made no effort to get in touch with Johnson.

BABE RUTH SAYS HOUSEKEEPER MISTAKEN

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Babe Ruth told the United Press today his housekeeper must be mistaken, he is not planning to retire to the South Sudbury farm until his present fight with the management of the New York Yankees is settled.

"I may go out to the farm some time but not for the present," the big fellow said. "My time is going to be spent in New York until this thing is settled one way or the other."

BABE RUTH FAILS TO MEET LANDIS

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Babe Ruth this afternoon boarded a fast train for New York, having failed to lay his troubles before Judge K. M. Landis, supreme dictator of baseball.

The King of Swat had planned to appeal to Landis from the suspension and fine imposed on him by Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees.

Learning, however, that Landis had left town overnight, Ruth decided to turn his fight to New York, where he will attempt to convince Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, that he was not deserving of the fine and suspension.

HILLER NEARLY MADE "HOLE IN ONE" ON NO. 10 GREEN

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hiller returned Sunday from Duluth, where Mr. Hiller won a beautiful silver cup at the annual three-day invitation golf tournament held at the Northland Country club.

Mr. Hiller brought home high honors for his local club as well as for himself at this three-day battle. He won first prize in his first flight and then captured the silver cup for the entire tournament.

His final match on Saturday was with A. Sears, of Fort William, Canada, whom he defeated 4 and 2. Mr. Hiller came close to causing a sensation on Friday, while playing with a Mr. Lonely, of Superior, Wis., when he nearly got a "hole in one" on No. 10 green, a 127-yard hole. He missed the cup by only about one foot.

Saturday morning's game with Mr. Hoyt, of the Ridgeview club, Duluth, was played in a heavy downpour of rain, but Mr. Hiller won his match for the third time on the 13th hole.

Guests of the Northland club were royally entertained during the tournament. A dinner dance for the visiting golfers was held on Thursday evening at the beautiful club house, and a stag party for the players was staged on Friday.

Mr. Hiller is loud in his praise for the hospitality shown by the members of the Duluth club, and for the excellent manner in which the tournament was conducted.

KING OF SWAT IS SUSPENDED BY 'HUG'

BABE APPEALS TO CZAR LANDIS FOR SHOW DOWN

IS BABE OR HUGGINS BIGGER MAN IN BASE-BALL?

RUTH OBJECTS TO SUSPENSION AND $5,000 FINE LEVIED

By EARL J. JOHNSON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Chicago, Aug. 31. — The former King of Swat appealed to the czar of baseball today for a show down on whether he or Miller Huggins, his diminutive manager, is the bigger man in the American League.

Babe Ruth's conference with Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis was scheduled for this morning, after which the Babe of the Yankees was to entrain for New York.

On his arrival here last night Ruth was registered at a fashionable hotel and began giving out interviews attacking Miller Huggins, Yankee baseball club manager, for suspending him indefinitely and fining him $5,000 for "conduct unbecoming a player."

This morning the former home run king's attitude had not changed in the least.

"I'm all set to tell the judge (Landis) what this is all about," Ruth said before starting for the baseball commissioner's office.

"I want my fine reduced. Huggins gave me a raw deal. Why, they wouldn't fine a bootlegger that much and I didn't even take a drink."

The Babe declared events leading up to his suspension and fine had convinced him that either he or Miller Huggins will have to abdicate his position with the Yankees.

"The situation is intolerable," Ruth said. "Huggins is a bum manager and he's trying to cover up his mistakes by blaming me. I don't want to play baseball with anyone but the Yankees, so if Miller Huggins is reinstated as manager next year I retire."

Ruth said, however, that he would finish out the present year if reinstated. He denied the truth of Huggins' charge that he had been guilty of "rank insubordination" off the baseball field.

"It is true that I have broken the 1 A. M. rule several times lately but it hasn't hurt me one bit. I haven't taken a drink. In St. Louis, where Huggins announced his action against me, I stayed out until 2:30 A. M. but it was too hot to sleep in St. Louis anyhow."

No forecast was available as to Commissioner Landis' attitude in Ruth's case. The czar who once fined the slugger $3,000 for defying him, declared, however, that Ruth would be given a chance to lay his cards on the table.

Despite the outcome of today's conference, the Bambino plans to carry his fight on Miller Huggins to Colonel Jake Ruppert, millionaire owner of the Yankees in New York City. Ban Johnson, president of the American League declared Ruth "got just what was coming to him."

"The Bambino has the mind of a 15 year old," said Johnson. "He has got to be taught that he isn't the whole show."

COL. JAKE RUPPERT MAKES STATEMENT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 31.—"Babe Ruth is not the manager of the New York Yankees and he does not own the club. As long as he is working for me he will have to do as he is told. He never can dictate to Miller Huggins or to me," Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the former American League champions, said today.

Ruppert made it clear that the

Yesterday's hero—Sam Rice, veteran Washington outfielder, tripled with the bases filled and beat the White Sox, 9 to 6.

Wildness by Walberg and Rommel helped the Tigers beat the Athletics 7 to 4. It was Philadelphia's sixth consecutive defeat.

Fester's double in the ninth drove in the run that gave the Indian's a 2 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

Frank Frisch hit a homer with one on and beat the Cardinals 3 to 1, in the first game but the Giants could not figure Sothern and lost the second game, 8 to 0.

Hargreave's double gave the Robins a 4 to 3 victory over the Reds in the first game and Zach Wheat's homer won the second game, 10 to 8.

Helped by three errors by Waininger, the Browns beat the Yanks, 7 to 6.

$5,000 fine and the suspension which Huggins slapped on the home run king for a violation of training rules goes with him to the limit.

"I do not know all the details but I am behind Huggins in everything he does," he said.

Colonel Ruppert intimated that he thought Huggins had been too slow in giving the Babe some good discipline and that he wanted to do it several times in the past but would not interfere in the family affairs of the team.

It will not do any good to talk to Commissioner Landis, as Landis has no authority to go into the private affairs of any club. It is certain that he cannot get anything from Ban Johnson, because the American League president is a Huggins man from the start and the owners of the club will certainly treat him with the ice.

It has been known ever since he got into the big money that the Babe was his own manager and that he caused dissension among the other players on the team who could not understand that the club rules applied only to them and not to the Babe. He openly insulted Huggins, refused to carry out instructions on or off the field and several times threatened Huggins with physical violence.

RUTH MAY GO BACK TO COWS AND CHICKENS

Marlboro, Mass., Aug. 31.—Indefinitely suspended from the New York Yankees, Babe Ruth apparently intends to return to the cows and chickens on his farm at South Sudbury, near here.

The baseball hero's housekeeper told the United Press today she had received a long distance telephone message from Ruth stating he and Mrs. Ruth would arrive at South Sudbury within a few days.

Ruth's housekeeper said this came as a surprise to her, because she had not expected Ruth and his wife for some time.

BABE RUTH TO MAKE A FORMAL APPEAL

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Formal appeal from the $5,000 fine and indefinite suspension imposed on him by Miller Huggins, manager of the New York Yankees, will be made to Judge K. M. Landis, baseball arbiter, within 10 days, George Herman ("Babe") Ruth declared today when he found Landis was out of the city.

Ruth was disappointed at not being able to see the commissioner and told friends he felt that Landis "had walked out on him."

According to the arbiter's office he went to Michigan during the night, taking a train shortly after Ruth's arrival here.

Ruth, premier slugger, still smarting under the blow dealt him by his diminutive manager Saturday afternoon, reiterated charges that Huggins was trying to alibi the poor showing made by the Yankees.

Seated in his room at a hotel, clothed in a dark blue dressing gown

while waiting for his suit to be pressed, Ruth said:

"I have to wait ten days before making an appeal to Judge Landis. I will go before him and demand that he take action. There was no reason for Huggins throwing me off the team, other than to alibi the poor showing made by the Yankees.

"We have the best team in the league, but Huggins is off his nut and he's trying to blame me. He's been laying for me for a long time and he got his chance the other morning when I pulled in about 2:30 in the morning.

"I'm going to New York this afternoon to lay my case before Colonel Ruppert, owner of the Yankees.

"Only I'm afraid I won't get anywhere, because Huggins has got Colonel Ruppert where he wants him and where he'll believe anything he says."

Ruth appeared worried. He passed his hands through his thick, shining black hair, as he talked. He twisted uncomfortably, answering questions put to him by a group of newspapermen.

"I gave the team the best I had in me," he said. "I'm 25 pounds lighter than ever and I'm in better shape than ever before.

"Huggins had to have somebody for a goat and I'm it."

Judge Landis is at Bird Lake, Mich., with his grandchildren and may not return to Chicago for several days.

Ban N. Johnson, president of the American League, has taken no official cognizance of the action of Huggins. Unofficially he told newspapermen that he felt the Babe got what was coming to him.

Ruth made no effort to get in touch with Johnson.

PAVING IN CITY BY THE STATE

Highway Department to Do $10,000
Worth of Work in
BRAINERD

CONTRACTS ALREADY LET

South Sixth Street and West Laurel
Street to be Benefited

Paving to be done by the state highway department within the city limits of Brainerd, will total nearly $10,000 it is estimated by local highway officials, according to the contracts that have already been let for this work.

This means a direct improvement to the city of nearly $10,000 the cost of which does not directly fall upon the local taxpayers, but which would prove quite a burden if the city had been compelled to do the paving.

The state highway department will complete the paving on South Sixth street from the city limits to the intersection of Sixth and Maple streets at the post office, totalling about nine or ten blocks, which will be a part of Trunk Highway No. 27, and West Laurel street from the intersection of that thoroughfare west to the Mississippi river bridge, about three-tenths of a mile, on Trunk Highway No. 2.

Both of these streets upon which paving is to be done have had strips of paving on each side wide enough for an automobile to travel upon, completed by the city, but the wide portion in the center of these streets, consisting of about two-thirds of the street's width, was left unpaved and this portion is to be done by the state highway department probably at the same time the paving is completed, from Belle Prairie to Brainerd.

Exact figures on the cost of paving South Sixth street are not available, since they are included in the 25.5 miles of paving on Trunk Highway No. 27, upon which Ostrand & Hallett, of Crosby were low bidders at $372,975, but the cost of the three-tenths of a mile on West Laurel street is $4,535 the bid made by Ostrand & Hallett.

City Engineer R. T. Campbell estimates that the paving improvements on these two streets will total nearly $10,000, which can be called direct city improvements, but which will cost local taxpayers nothing.

SCENES ARE WELL CHOSEN

Brainerd, Hostess City, is Given Due
Prominence in The

The "Hello Bills" have said goodbye to Brainerd, yet in the moving pictures of the Elks State convention the parade swinging across the screen at the New Park theatre brought back to our minds all the colorful pageantry, with our fair city in gala array as a pleasing background. These pictures were taken through the courtesy of Finkelstein & Ruben, of Minneapolis, Theodore L. Hayes, Past Exalted Ruler of Minneapolis lodge No. 44, and the Brainerd lodge. Valuable assistance was given by the local publicity committee, John A. Hoffbauer, chairman.

The points of interest in the parade were well chosen; the captions have snap, and the film has both photographic excellence and a state-wide appeal. Brainerd, the hostess city, was given due prominence, yet lodge organizations and musical units from other cities were given an opportunity to "look pleasant" as they passed the camera's eye. These pictures will be shown throughout Finkelstein & Ruben's amusement chain of over 100 theatres and through this means Brainerd will be given publicity of inestimable value as a convention city.

St. Paul had one of the best represented delegations, and the marching precision of their wonderful drum corps was well shown in the pictures. Owatonna made a proud showing, too, and the intricate marching in Gregory park filmed remarkably well. The Brainerd Ladies band, whose ensemble seems chosen for beauty as well as for musical ability, made a distinct hit, their attractive suits with graceful flying capes photographing with artistic effect.

The beautifully decorated float of the Little Falls lodge, followed by its fifty or more marching Elks, was vigorously applauded as it swung round a prominent business corner. Applause is said to be an ephemeral thing, yet hand-clapping and waving kerchiefs punctuate these pictures repeatedly.

Brainerd lodge No. 615 distinctively American float of Indians in full regalia from the Walker Indian colony made an exceptionally good picture. An amusing bit of local interest was the addition of Dr. A. K. Cohen, delegate from Brainerd to the national convention, who joined in a tribal dance with all the dexterity of a sure-nuff Redskin. They say a good Indian is a dead one, so one can not call Dr. Cohen a good Indian, for he is no dead one, but he is an excellent interpreter of Tom-tom dancing.

The Boy Scouts cleverly executed float, which, by the way, cost less than a dollar to make, was a bit clouded by smoke from the bonfire, but the "Leaping Lena" car leaped into the limelight with a kick like a kangaroo! It jiggled its triumphant way down the street like an Hawaiian beauty with the St. Vitus dance, all faithfully recorded by the camera, which is reported to be shock-proof.

The Elks pictures in themselves were well worth the price of admission, but were shown in connection with Richard Barthelmess' picture, "Soul Fire," which portrays a life symphony in pictures. In the opinion of the writer, this picture was the most artistic offering presented by the Park theatre this season, and deserved an orchestral accompaniment, since the movements of an orchestra formed the background for the picture. With the Elks convention pictures as a drawing card, a slight advance in price would have been justifiable, which would have covered the cost of an orchestra, and furnished the necessary atmosphere for the unusually fine Barthelmess pictures, which was so highly praised by New York critics.

FLOWER SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

CONGRATULATES SHOW PEOPLE

Lovers of Peonies, Says Society,
Should Place Orders at Once

The success of the recent flower show, staged under the auspices of the Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society, and the quality of the exhibits are attested by a letter received by one of the officers of the society from Prof. C. E. Cary, in charge of the section of landscape gardening, University of Minnesota, who was in attendance at the local show and acted as one of the judges. Prof. Cary states in part:

"I enjoyed my brief stay in Brainerd very much, and I want to congratulate you and your co-workers on the very splendid show. I know the weather has been against the production of real good gladioli and dahlias, but I was agreeably surprised to find at Brainerd a large number of fine varieties being grown and displayed in very good fashion."

Lovers of peonies, who have not placed their orders for this fall's planting are reminded by members of the garden flower society that these orders should be placed at once.

It is suggested that if a peony root per year is planted in the gardens of Brainerd residents, each grower would have a nice collection before many years. Some report that they had poor results last year, but those who cared for their peonies carefully in most cases were rewarded with good blooms. The dry autumns in this vicinity require that peony bulbs be well watered the first fall at least.

For the guidance of those who would purchase peonies, the garden flower society has furnished the Dispatch with a list of bulbs at popular prices. Some nurseries vary in price but those quoted below are approximately what the bulbs will cost:

Peony bulbs at 50 cents include such varieties as: White, Duchess de Nemours, Festiva Maxima, Mme. de Vercennes, pink, Edulis Superba. Early bulbs at 75 cents: White, Couronne d'Or; red, Felix Crousse, Rubia Superba, pink, Mme. Geissler, La Tulipe, Mme. Ducl.

Peony bulbs at $1: White, Marie Lemoine, Avalanche, La Perle, Mon-fleur Dupont; red, Ben Franklin, Midnight, Old Silver Tip, Karl Rosenfeld, Officinalis Rubia; pink, Eugene Verdier, Grandeflora, Livingston, Marguerite Gerard, Albert Crousse, Claire Dubois, Monsieur Jules, Elie, Mme. Emile Galle.

Other varieties of peonies range in price up to $50, but those listed above are suggested for local people who wish to start a collection and want good peonies at a reasonable price.

THUNDER SHOWERS IN THE MIDWEST

BRING ONLY SLIGHT RELIEF TO

MANITY

(By United Press)

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Overnight thunder showers brought only slight relief to the heat suffering midwest today. Temperatures ranged into the nineties over Sunday and were climbing again today, after a brief few hours of wind and rain during the night.

One death, that of Charles J. Seaborg, 77, was caused by the heat here.

Conrad Dahmer, 13, died of sunstroke while working as a caddy on a golf course at Ionia, Mich.

Dr. Albert J. Irwin, 68, was killed when a freak heat storm struck Lake Washee, near Goshen, Ind. The fury of the gale which upset the doctor's fishing boat, uprooted trees and damaged several buildings but had all blown over in 15 minutes.

Thousands sought relief on Lake Michigan bathing beaches Sunday. Rain storms drove to cover those who planned to sleep in the parks and on fire escapes.

Milwaukee, Aug. 31.—Heat which yesterday sent the mercury up to 91 degrees and Milwaukeeans to the beaches, continued today despite some relief last night in the form of a cool northwest breeze.

BANKER PROBLEMS IN SMALL TOWNS

Their Relation to the Farmers, Explained by "Commercial West"

LIVE PEOPLE IN LIVE TOWNS

When Trade is Taken From a Small Town, It Rapidly
Decays

The problems of bankers and other lines of business in small towns, and those of the farmer in rural districts, are explained in an article contained in the "Commercial West" a weekly journal devoted to banking, investments, general financial conditions, etc. This article gives some very interesting data on the subject, and was handed to the Dispatch through the courtesy of the First National bank. It follows herewith:

No community rises above the character and ability of the people comprising it. The live town is only the result of the activity of its citizens. Hundreds of small towns that were good places in which to live a dozen years ago, are of the graveyard kind today. For the changes which have taken place, there are reasons: There is the lure of the larger cities, the dislike of agricultural pursuits, and other things that cause thousands and tens of thousands of the best young manhood and womanhood of the rural communities to leave the environments of their childhood and seek the glamors of the large city.

There are scores of innovations that enhance agricultural life and lends to it charms that the cities cannot give. Yet the youth flees from them. The automobile has shortened distance. It has brought the country to the city. The radio, the telephone, the daily mails—all have contributed toward making life in the rural town and country more agreeable. At the same time they have been factors in destroying the business of the community, so essential to its life. In these changes the banker is interested. In the changes he can observe the trend toward centralization and eventually his elimination unless he is an exceptionally good banker. Today community building and community preservation go hand in hand. It is preservation more than building that is the problem. More than 20 per cent of the rural towns are decaying, 40 per cent holding their own, while the remaining 40 per cent are making some progress.

This is the present status. But will not the future bring a change? Today the resident of the average agricultural district in the Central West has advantages that the city resident does not and cannot have. He has by radio and telephone direct and instant means of communication. He has electric lights and all the conveniences that the city resident can have. He is at the most only an hour or two distant from the big town. But he makes the mistake of turning from his home community to patronize the distant concerns. Perhaps the merchants in his town are too hoggish, too behind the times and do not deserve patronage. But the fact remains that when trade is taken from a small town, it goes to decay. There must be employment in order that people may live in a community. When the means of employment is taken away, the community dies a natural death. When the situation relative to the rural community is summed up, its salvation solely rests upon the people composing it.

George R. West is enlarging his Birchdale pavilion so that the large crowd anticipated for the next U. C. T. dance can be accommodated on Monday evening, September 7th.

The U. C. T. feels very fortunate in securing the famous Hilary's original orchestra, with Harry Hilary himself as director. This is without a doubt the hottest orchestra to visit the Brainerd region this season. It has played with the same musicians making up the personnel for the past two years, and has just closed its summer season at the Marigold Gardens, Minneapolis.

This orchestra will bring to Brainerd the very latest in dance hits. There are two specialty singers who will entertain during the dancing. Altogether, this is one of the liveliest jazz dance orchestra playing in the state, and it is expected that everyone will take advantage of the opportunity to dance to this music.

At the last U. C. T. dance there were 250 couples, and the committee has decided to admit just 200 couples at next Monday night's dance, so that there will be no possibility of crowding, making it more pleasant for the dancers. The first to arrive will be admitted up to 200 couples.

PAVING IN CITY BY THE STATE

Highway Department to Do $10,000 Worth of Work in Brainerd

CONTRACTS ALREADY LET

South Sixth Street And West Laurel Street to be Benefited

Paving to be done by the state highway department within the city limits of Brainerd, will total nearly $10,000 it is estimated by local highway officials, according to the contracts that have already been let for this work.

This means a direct improvement to the city of nearly $10,000 the cost of which does not directly fall upon the local taxpayers, but which would prove quite a burden if the city had been compelled to do the paving.

The state highway department will complete the paving on South Sixth street from the city limits to the intersection of Sixth and Maple streets at the post office, totalling about nine or ten blocks, which will be a part of Trunk Highway No. 27, and West Laurel street from the intersection of that thoroughfare west to the Mississippi river bridge, about three-tenths of a mile, on Trunk Highway No. 2.

Both of these streets upon which paving is to be done have had strips of paving on each side wide enough for an automobile to travel upon, completed by the city, but the wide portion in the center of these streets, consisting of about two-thirds of the street's width, was left unpaved and this portion is to be done by the state highway department probably at the same time the paving is completed from Belle Prairie to Brainerd.

Exact figures on the cost of paving South Sixth street are not available, since they are included in the 25.5 miles of paving on Trunk Highway No. 27, upon which Ostrund & Hallett, of Crosby were low bidders at $372,075, but the cost of the three-tenths of a mile on West Laurel street is $4,535 the bid made by Ostrund & Hallett.

City Engineer R. T. Campbell estimates that the paving improvements on these two streets will total nearly $10,000, which can be called direct city improvements, but which will cost local taxpayers nothing.

Picnic at Breezy Point

A party of six girls including the Misses Helen Hoerner and Irene Brose, of Brainerd, motored up from Minneapolis on Saturday, and were entertained by Mrs. R. T. Warrick at a picnic at Breezy Point on Sunday.

Among those who were in attendance were the Misses Mabel Nordahl, Dorothy Colliton and Alpha Johnson, of Minneapolis; Hannah Looney, of Dubuque, Iowa, Irene, Rose and Frances, Hoerner, Mr. and Mrs. Hoerner, Ernest Davis and Melvin Larson, of Brainerd.

The merry-makers enjoyed a very pleasant picnic at Breezy Point, those from out-of-town being delighted with their first visit to this famous resort.

DAILY DISPATCH WANTS Bring QUICK RESULTS

MOST TEAMS MUST REBUILD THIS WINTER

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 31.—Plenty of activity on the ivory market is predicted during the off-season this winter when nearly every team in the major leagues will be going through a process of re-organization.

With the exception of the New York Giants, the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Philadelphia Athletics, every team in the two big leagues will have to be reorganized this winter if they are to figure at all in the 1926 pennant races.

The Pirates and the Athletics are well fixed with good young players, but the Giants have several veterans that need replacement. McGraw needs a good utility infielder, a young catcher and some new pitchers although he has in Kent Greenfield and Fred Fitzsimmons two of the best looking pitching prospects in the league.

The Brooklyn Robins need pitchers and a third baseman but the club has very little trading material and may have to depend upon youngsters picked up from the minors.

The champion Washington Senators need young pitchers and a utility shortstop. The club has been very active all season buying up players in the minor leagues and Bucky Harris may have the good fortune to find the players to bolster up the team for another race.

The New York Yankees will have to be rebuilt almost entirely to get back as a contender in the race. The club already has spent more than $200,000 for young players and Col. Ruppert hasn't pulled the strings on the money bag.

Of all the players on the team only Ruth, Hoyt, Jones, Pennington, Dugan, Meusel, Gehrig, Combs and Bengough are sure of their jobs next season.

The Cincinnati Reds could use a first baseman and they are badly in need of hitting strength. Hitless wonders have won pennants in the past but in this modern game even the best pitching needs some stick support.

The Detroit Tigers also will be put through the renovating process. Ty Cobb is said to have confided in friends that Heinie Manush is the only player on the team who is sure of his job next year. The Tigers have an abundance of trading material and Cobb ought to be able to get almost what he wants on the market.

* * * * *

So many bear stories have been circulated about Babe Ruth this summer that new ones have to be discounted.

The latest excuse offered for the weak batting of the former king of the sluggers and hitters was that his eyesight has become impaired.

It is natural for any batter to get into a slump. Pep Young, one of the best hitters on the Giants last year, has been in a slump all season. He has been hitting the ball but he couldn't find safe territory. The Babe, however, hasn't even been hitting the ball and the frequency with which he missed strikes by the proverbial mile caused some of the Yankee players to believe that his eyes have gone back on him.

George Sisler corrected his eye trouble by retiring from the game for a year, but the same treatment hardly would work in the case of the Babe, who would expand to the proportions of an elephant if he remained idle for a year.

Gertrude Ederle May Swim English Channel on Wednesday Morning

(By United Press)
Cape Grisnez, France, Aug. 31.—The English channel was quiet today after its stormy mood of the week-end and Miss Gertrude Ederle, American swimmer, planned to start at 7:35 A. M. Wednesday her second attempt to master it. There was a possibility even that tomorrow she would accompany I. Helmy, Egyptian swimmer, on his proposed take-off at 6:37 A. M.

Brewster Started Today

Folkestone, Aug. 31.—G. B. Brewster, British swimmer, started at 11:45 A. M. today in an attempt to swim the channel. Conditions were favorable but the water was cold. His attempt followed the unsuccessful effort of Mercedes Gleitze, London stenographer, yesterday to cross from Folkestone.

Starting at 5 o'clock in the morning, Miss Gleitze, making her second attempt within a fortnight, was forced five hours later to give up off South Sands Head, 11 miles eastward because of cold water.

Another Postponement

Grisnez, Aug. 31.—Miss Gertrude Ederle today virtually decided not to make her new attempt at swimming the channel before Thursday. I. Helmy, Egyptian swimmer, postponed his attempt slated for tomorrow. A strong wind made it a dangerous step.

Brewster Gives Up

Folkestone, Aug. 31.—After making 10 miles in the chilling waters of the English channel today, G. B. Brewster, English swimmer, abandoned his attempt to cross to France.

Just Wanted to Keep Promise to the Bairn

Judge Joseph Sabath, of Chicago, said recently that the increase in divorce is not necessarily a bad sign, but may be, on the contrary, a sign that woman, more emancipated now, insists more on a square deal.

"I have presided over 10,000 divorce cases," Judge Sabath said at a luncheon, "and I have seen more than one husband who was as impossible as Wully Dugan."

"Wully, just before Christmas, attended a performance given by an illusionist. The illusionist put a woman in a cabinet, shut the doors, then opened them again and behold, the woman had disappeared, and in her place was a green parrot."

"Wully buttonholed the illusionist after the performance and said to him:

"Mon, could ye do that trick if my wife was put in yer box?"

"Aha," the illusionist laughed, "so you want to get rid of your wife, do you?"

"Weel," said Wully, "it's not so much that, ye ken, but I promised the bairn a green parrot for Christmas."

Red Herring Across Trail

This phrase, originally "to draw a red herring across the track," is frequently heard in everyday speech to signify a means used to divert one's attention, to throw one off the scent by injecting into the matter in hand a new object upon which the attention is then focused.

The expression dates back to the Seventeenth century for its origin, being a survival of the old practice of sportsmen to draw the carcass of a cat or fox or a red herring across the track in training dogs for hunting.

The uniqueness of the phrase made it stand out, and it soon became popular in the figurative sense in which it is used today.—Jean Newton in Chicago Journal.

French Golden Epoch

The golden era of French literature occurred in the reign of Louis XIV, famous for the splendor of his court and his disregard for his people. Corneille, Racine, Moliere, La Fontaine and Bossuet adorned this epoch.

BRAINERD 3, ISLE 4, IN SUNDAY GAME

TEN INNING GAME PLAYED BEFORE A LARGE CROWD

PETERSON PITCHED GOOD GAME, TEAM-MATES' ERRORS COSTLY

The Brainerd Independents went to Isle yesterday, and came within an inch of eking out a victory over the strong Isle baseball team, the game going ten innings for a 4-3 victory for the Isle players.

Peterson had to take the mound for Brainerd when their engaged hurler, Naylor, was called home. Stepping into the breach in the pinch, Peterson pitched a mastery game, allowing but seven hits, and deserving to win, except for errors by his teammates.

The Isle pitcher, Dieble, had the Brainerd men eating out of his hand most of the time, striking out nineteen men. But the hits made by Brainerd came at the right time, and accounted for deserved scores for Brainerd.

Brainerd counted at the start. Peterson was safe on a fielder's choice, with two out, took second on the play, and scored on Orth's single to left. Two more came in the second, Engbretson and Molstad singling in a row, and both advanced on a wild pitch. Thorkildson doubled, scoring both runners. This ended Brainerd's scoring.

Dieble started things in the fifth for the home boys, making third on a single which was lost in the grass and went for a three-bagger. The next man hit to Peterson, who threw to the plate to catch Dieble, but Bedal dropped the ball, and Dieble was safe. Hengins took second on the error and scored on Ice's single. Again in the seventh, Dieble singled, took second on Bedal's bad throw to first, took third on an error by Swanson, and scored on a sacrifice fly.

Both teams battled hard to take the lead, but an extra inning was necessary. In the tenth, Carlson doubled, took third on an infield out and scored on E. Carlstrom's scratch single past third.

Thorkildson played a whirlwind of a game at third for Brainerd, and got a two-bagger in the pinch, scoring two runners. Swanson, Molstad and Engbretson did nice work at the bat, each getting two hits.

LA BARBA, NEW FLYWEIGHT CHAMPION AT 19, WILL GO TO COLLEGE AFTER 1 YEAR

Fidel La Barba, only 19 years old, who was graduated from the Los Angeles High School last February, won the world's flyweight championship in a ten round bout with Frankie Genaro at Los Angeles. This little 112 pound titleholder will fight all comers for one year, according to George Blake, his manager, and then leave the ring to enter college. He has promised Genaro a return match.

ONCE GOOD MONEY, NOW WASTE PAPER

Dealers in old paper take notice! The Yugoslav government has fifteen carloads of waste paper for sale. It is all that is left of billions of Austro-Hungarian bank notes, called in and replaced by dinar notes. Yugoslavia was constructed out of Serbia and several parts of the old Austro-Hungarian empire. Along with the increase in territory Yugoslavia inherited an inflated currency. First the bank notes circulated on a basis reduced from the inflated value, and later were stamped. Afterward the stamped notes were exchanged on a basis of four crowns for one dinar. Now dinars circulate throughout Yugoslavia, and Austrian crowns are not legal tender. Exports are greater than imports, and the dinar shows a tendency to appreciate. The Yugoslavs like their dinars and do not mourn the crown. The national bank officials found that the old crown bank notes were taking too much space, consequently they are to be disposed of as old paper—fifteen carloads of them. It is not often that so much money goes so cheaply.

Miss Gertrude Ederle after Her Collapse when Two-Thirds Across in Attempt To Swim Channel

Miss Ederle, the American swimmer, is shown with Jabez White, her trainer, after she had been taken from the water by Ishak Helmy in a state of collapse, suffering from the effects of swallowing salt water. She was then two-thirds of the way across the English Channel, having started from the French side.

LA BARBA, NEW FLYWEIGHT CHAMPION AT 19, WILL GO TO COLLEGE AFTER 1 YEAR

Fidel La Barba, only 19 years old, who was graduated from the Los Angeles High School last February, won the world's flyweight championship in a ten round bout with Frankie Genaro at Los Angeles. This little 112 pound titleholder will fight all comers for one year, according to George Blake, his manager, and then leave the ring to enter college. He has promised Genaro a return match.

ONCE GOOD MONEY, NOW WASTE PAPER

Dealers in old paper take notice! The Yugoslav government has fifteen carloads of waste paper for sale. It is all that is left of billions of Austro-Hungarian bank notes, called in and replaced by dinar notes. Yugoslavia was constructed out of Serbia and several parts of the old Austro-Hungarian empire. Along with the increase in territory Yugoslavia inherited an inflated currency. First the bank notes circulated on a basis reduced from the inflated value, and later were stamped. Afterward the stamped notes were exchanged on a basis of four crowns for one dinar. Now dinars circulate throughout Yugoslavia, and Austrian crowns are not legal tender. Exports are greater than imports, and the dinar shows a tendency to appreciate. The Yugoslavs like their dinars and do not mourn the crown. The national bank officials found that the old crown bank notes were taking too much space, consequently they are to be disposed of as old paper—fifteen carloads of them. It is not often that so much money goes so cheaply.

Miss Gertrude Ederle after Her Collapse when Two-Thirds Across in Attempt To Swim Channel

Miss Ederle, the American swimming star, is shown with Jabez White, her trainer, after she had been taken from the water by Ishak Helmy in a state of collapse, suffering from the effects of swallowing salt water. She was then two-thirds of the way across the English Channel, having started from the French side.
